The maple leaf clings tenaciously to a tremoring branch, is overcome by a gust of Indiana wind and plastered to the damp sidewalk. Red beauty fades to brown under dishwater skies and dies.

Despite its placid quietude, GC is a battlefield where life and death struggle to overcome each other, and people, leaves, and little black squirrels...

8/78 Gift Erland Waltner

61263

. . . are caught in the storm together.
We have come searching—aching, grasping, dying to live.
"I went to the woods," writes Henry David Thoreau, " . . . to front only the essential facts of life, and see if I could not learn what it had to teach, and not, when I came to die, discover that I had not lived."

A (above): GC becomes the newest member of the Mid-Central Conference this year. Coached by E. Herr, D. Schrock (second from right) and his cross-country teammates, B. Aschliman, D. Bueno, T. Hershberger, G. Miller, J. Stoltzfus, and D. Wikerd run up a 7—6 record and defeat Grace for the conference title.

A. Gish

We are all Thoreaus, caught in an intense struggle to find ourselves.
Our goals may be less well defined and our woods far less secluded, but our search for life is the same, and is, as was Thoreau's, ironically complex.
A new trimester brings with it new resolutions and anticipations of discovery that shatter in the hollow emptiness of a meaningless course required for credit hours.
Enrollment goes down as tuition rises and job shortages threaten graduates.
Art Gish challenges us with radical discipleship.
We plan Come and See chapels and,
looking inside ourselves, find nothing.
We fear our own emptiness and insecurity.

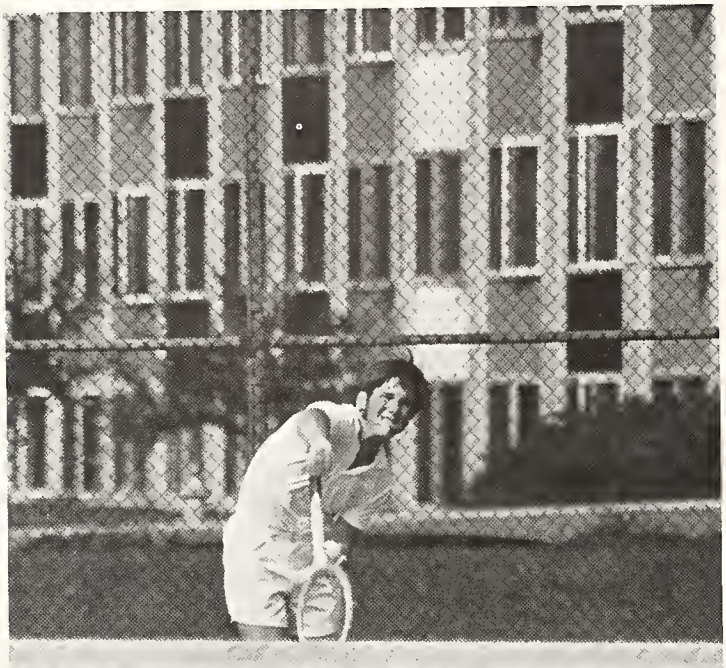
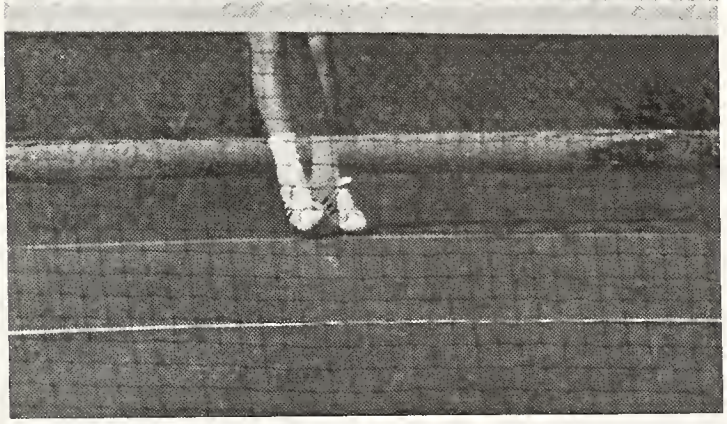
B (below): A. Smucker's tennis team also wins a league crown. D. Swartzendruber (B), E. Lehman, J. Lehman, T. Lehman, J. Lind, S. Miller, F. Swartzendruber, G. Swartzendruber, and D. Troyer fashion a 6-0 loop record and take the conference tourney. A 4-3 decision over Grace in the final match of the year assures the Leafs of the Mid-Central championship.

LL (lower left): D. Kennell, P. Broaddus, D. Yost, M. Bartel





We ache to be loved,
to interact,
and to find warmth
in the association of others.
Then
we discover that unlocked rooms are vulnerable and trust comes easier when we carry keys around in our pockets.
The new kiln
blows our first ceramics to pieces
during firing.
A tennis match,
in spite of hours of practice, results in defeat
The struggle for perfection is exhausting.

UR (upper right): J. Crist, A. Beck

A: Calling on his prowess from years past, J. Schrock wins the tricycle race, one of the events of the play for points competition, emphasizing co-ed intramurals from sack races to football.
UR: S. Hirahatake
LL: S. Dhanani

"If I could only forget my inhibitions and learn to communicate," says an SSTer as he retreats into the security of his own self.
We need more freedom, we say; our problem is that we squelch individuality and don't allow people to be themselves.

UR: K. Birky
LL: D. Landis

Thus we concentrate on what we are and are not. We form committees to discuss, committees to brainstorm, committees to investigate, and committees to form committees. We report lifeless decisions and seek to legislate spiritual renewal.
In an intellectual way we love, and think, now I am loving—or am I?
And if we find we aren't, we figure out a better way of doing it.

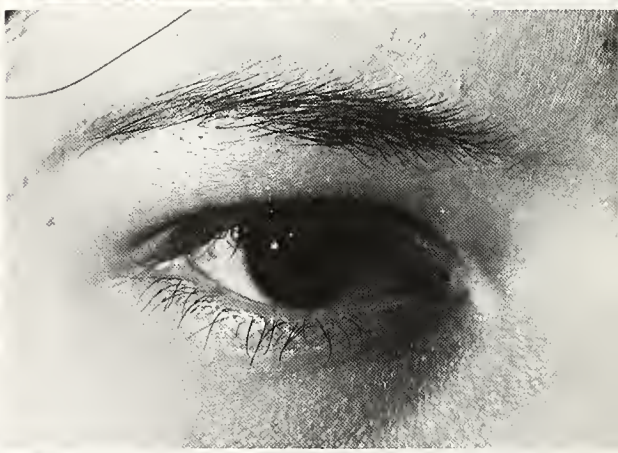
C (center):J. Kauffman, J. Ebersole, R. Liechty, J. Liechty
LR (lower right): C. Miller



A: C. Robinson, R. J. Cook

In discussing the grading system, standards, and the basis of Campus Church membership, we run in weary circles and prove nothing but the fallibility of words. We question, criticize, and dissect ourselves to pieces. Then we strive to put the pieces back together like a child musing over a broken toy.

The quest defeats us.
We weaken in our struggle for life and gawk in despair at the awesome magnitude of our dilemna.
By mid November the pressure hits and grades and papers drive us into a frantic scramble to keep up with the world. After page 372 brains turn to pulp and cease to function. Wednesday arrives and Monday's assignments are undone. Down pat answers mushroom into large hopeless questions.

A: Included in the women's field hockey 8-20 record are wins over Purdue and Bowling Green. L. Miller (A), C. Byler, J. Clemmer, R. Clemmer, M. Hess, J. Histand, R. Kauffman, J. Landis, V. Mester, C. Reschly, J. Roth, J. Schrock, and C. Weaver combine to give Coach B. Wyse another undefeated season.

We strive for community, calling ourselves brothers, and then we go our individual ways and blame the kid across the hall for apathy. In becoming the church we obscure our goals, pack our minds with hand-me-down cliches, and forget to love.
Our attempts to live shatter, and the castles of our idealistic dreams crumble.
We cannot find life through our own efforts.
The battle is nearly over.
We are, despite our undying efforts to live, destined to die.

UR: N. Lindsay
LL: J. McCammon
LR: Men's Open House: A. Glick, S. Eby, J. Gingerich, P. Bickling

UR: K. Moyer
LL: International Student Retreat

Submission comes at last, and in death the relaxing joy of surrender waters the seeds of life. "Except a grain of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone;" says Jesus, "but if it die it bringeth forth much fruit."
Life's mystery unfolds.
We die and find what we had been searching for all along.
We forget that we are being the church and the church lives.
We admit our insecurities and find patient empathizing acceptance. We bring our frailty to Word groups and receive strength.
GPA and course requirements are lost in the joyous discovery of an unplanned snackshop dialogue.
The pulse of life explodes into childlike freedom.
We drop the inhibitions of intellectual reasoning and feel the throbbing rhythm of a song.
"I'm gonna trust Him," sing the Ebony Voices.

LL: A. Brown, J. Gingerich LR: P. Bechtel, K. Myers, C. Miller.

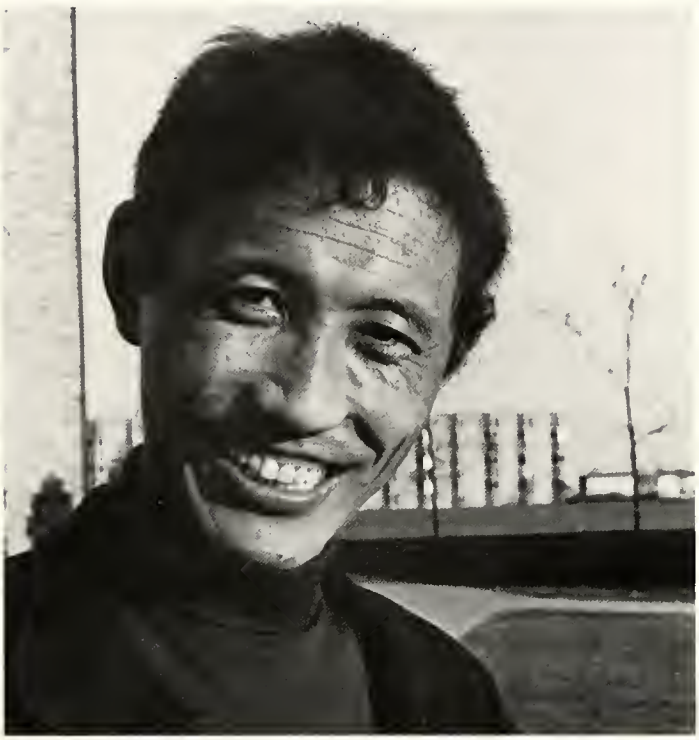
UL, B: R. Stiffney acquaints J. Mishler with Campus Church, an attempt to experience the true church through small groups. Chime Rinpoche, a Tibetan lama, spends three weeks on campus, giving students a unique view of Buddhism.

LR: J. Lehman



B, LR: Achievement through discipline: under J. Ingold, the soccer team, with an overall 10—3 slate, is unbeaten in league play and captures the Mid-Central Conference title. The Leafs qualify for the District 4 NAIA invitational tournament and avenge an earlier loss by defeating Spring Arbor, 3—2, before losing in the final tilt to a good Earlham team. Y. Bwatwa, D. Hess, L. Miller, and L. Schlabach are named all-league with M. Kimmel, D. Hartzler, and E. Savanick receiving honorable mention. Other team members include: L. Beckler, C. Berkey, M. Birky, R. Clemens, J. Glick, S. Histand, W. Klassen, M. Lopez, J. Miller, R. Paul, V. Rice, R. Savanick, D. Sensenig, and W. Zehr. On Beethoven's 200th anniversary, the A Cappella Choir directed by D. Weldy, combines with the orchestra conducted by G. Gaska to present the seldom-performed Missa Solemnis. T. McCarthy, J. Snyder, D. Weldy, D. Falk, and J. Jost are soloists.

UL: G. King, D. Schertz
LR: D. Good, B. Wyse, J. Dueck
B: J. Dick

GOSHEN COLLEGE
CULTURE
FOR SERVICE
1903

The pieces begin to fall together. We cease trying to be, and reaching out beyond ourselves to Christ, we find our being.

It is the dawning of a new day.
The dorm is deathly quiet.
Midnight scuffle has retreated into motionless forms of bedding.
Dust filters undisturbed through slanted rays of sunlight.
Time reverberates,
sends dissheveled heads groveling deeper into warm pillows, and jangles on.
Life awakens with a splash of water, a feeble hello from inside a washcloth, and the music of flushing johns.

"Look for yourself," says C. S. Lewis, "and you will find in the long run only hatred,
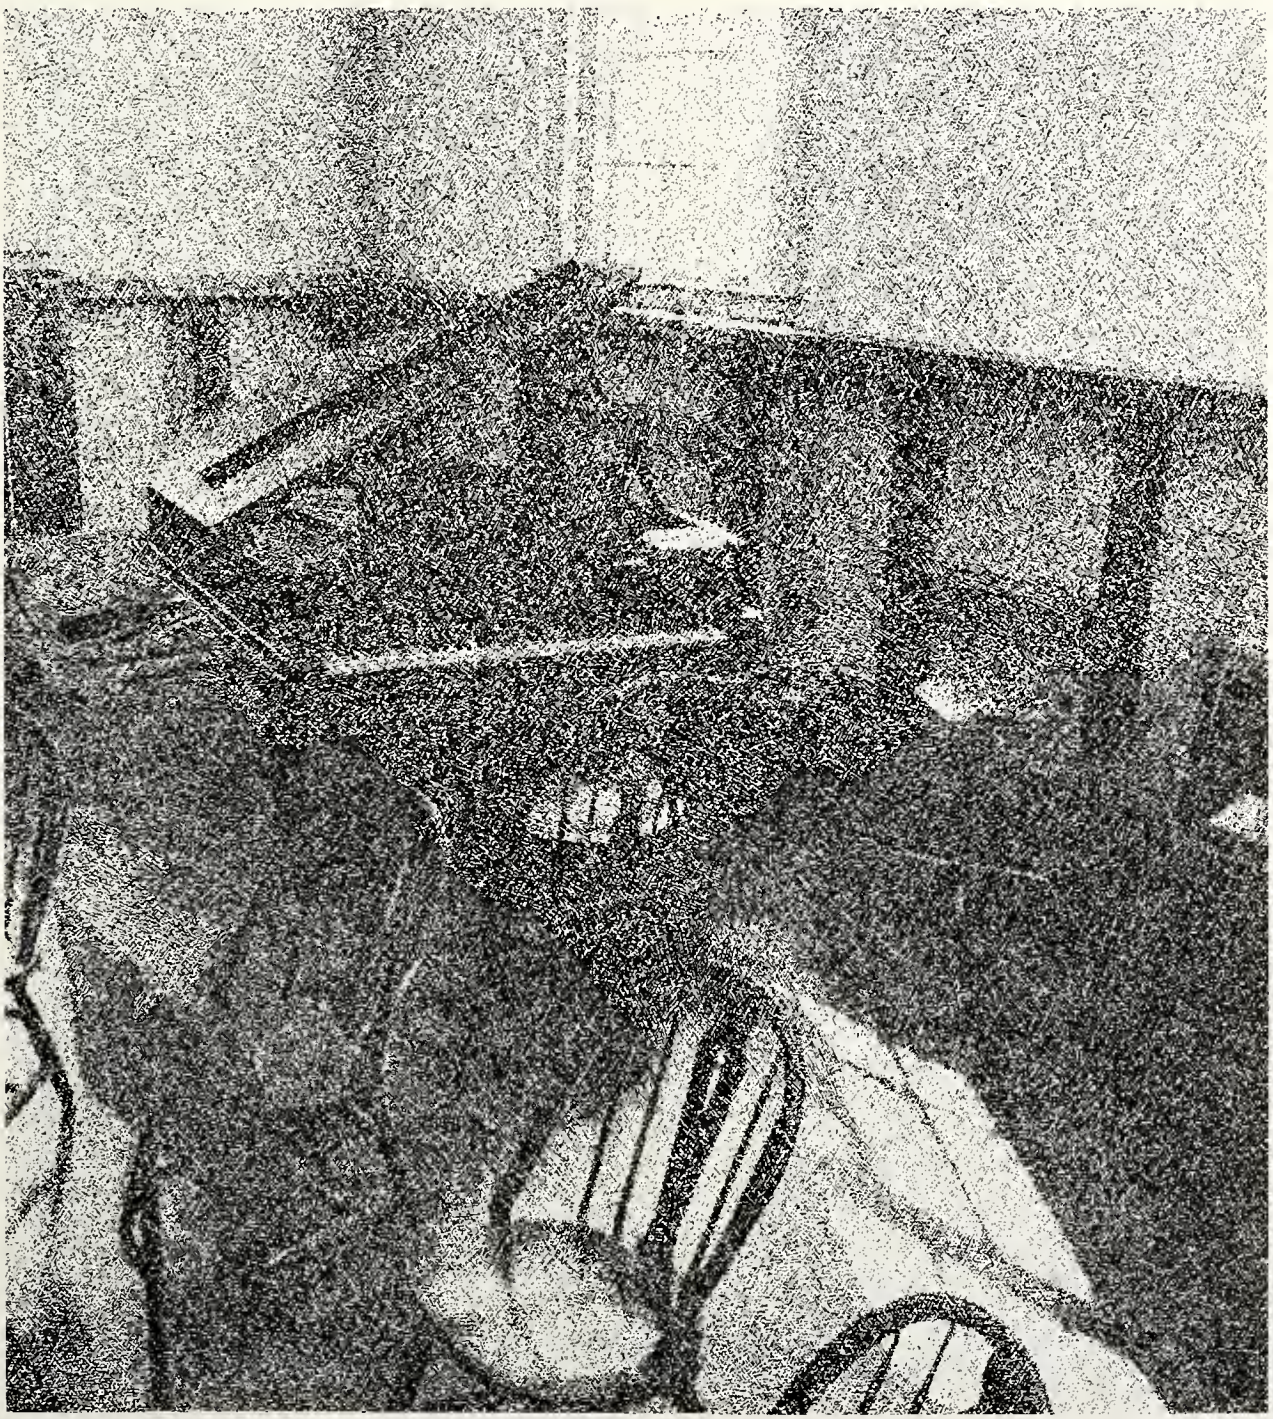
loneliness,
despair,
rage,
ruin,
and decay.
But look for Christ and you will find Him, and with Him everything else thrown in."



In committment to Him we abandon the ache and tension of struggle and are born to life. In our end we find beginnings, in our death, life. "If anyone wants to come with me, he must forget himself, carry his cross, and follow me," challenges Jesus. "For the man who wants to save his own life will lose it; but the man who loses his life for my sake will find it."

UR: B. Goossen and "little sister"
B: Campus Church Communion

A: B. Gunden and G. Lemons are two members of Ichthus House, a communal fellowship of students seeking to relive early discipleship through an intense sharing committment to each other.

We share together the odd and insignificant moments of life.
Eggs and toast or bacon and toast?
Breakfast is a handy place to try out the voice on not so important prattle like, maybe he'll forget to collect the papers anyway, or did you remember sheet exchange last night?
Chime time.
Forget the cereal and run.

Following chapel is the mailbox rush. Small padded envelopes wrinkled slightly from postal wear, wavy mechanical lines, and two day old familiar scrawls . . . persons whose lives we have touched.
The Union is crowded with moving bodies.
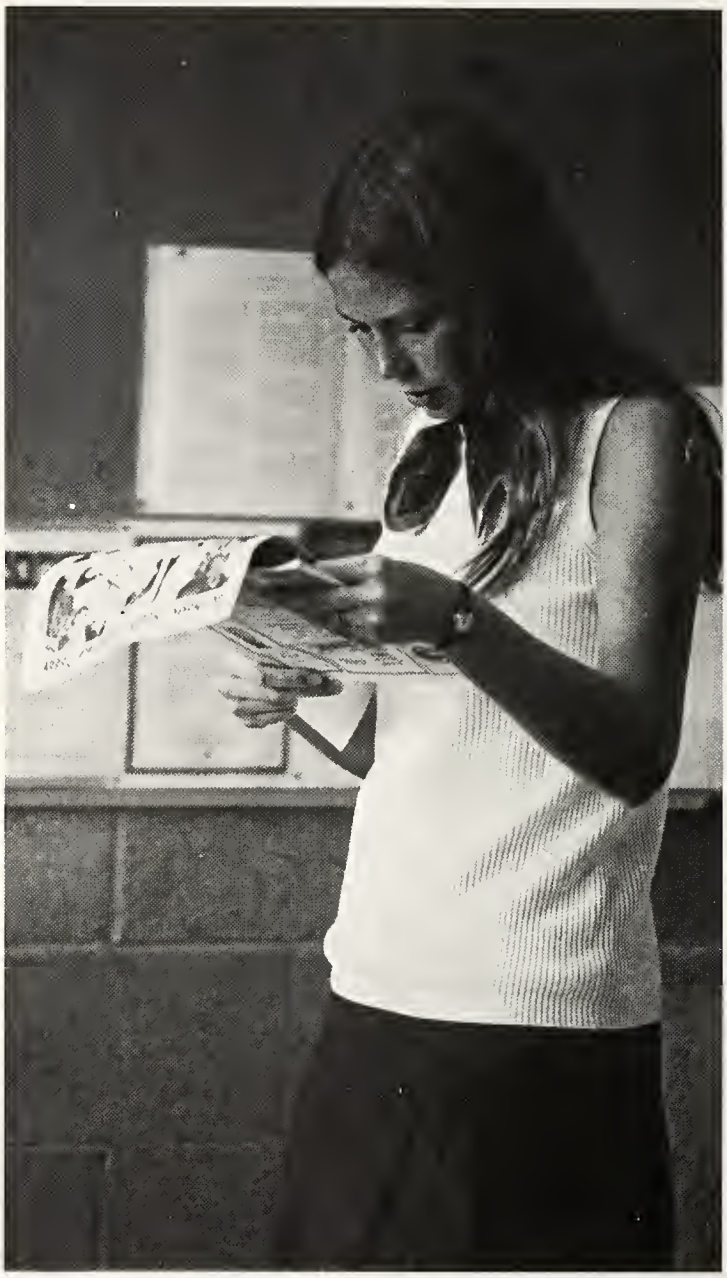
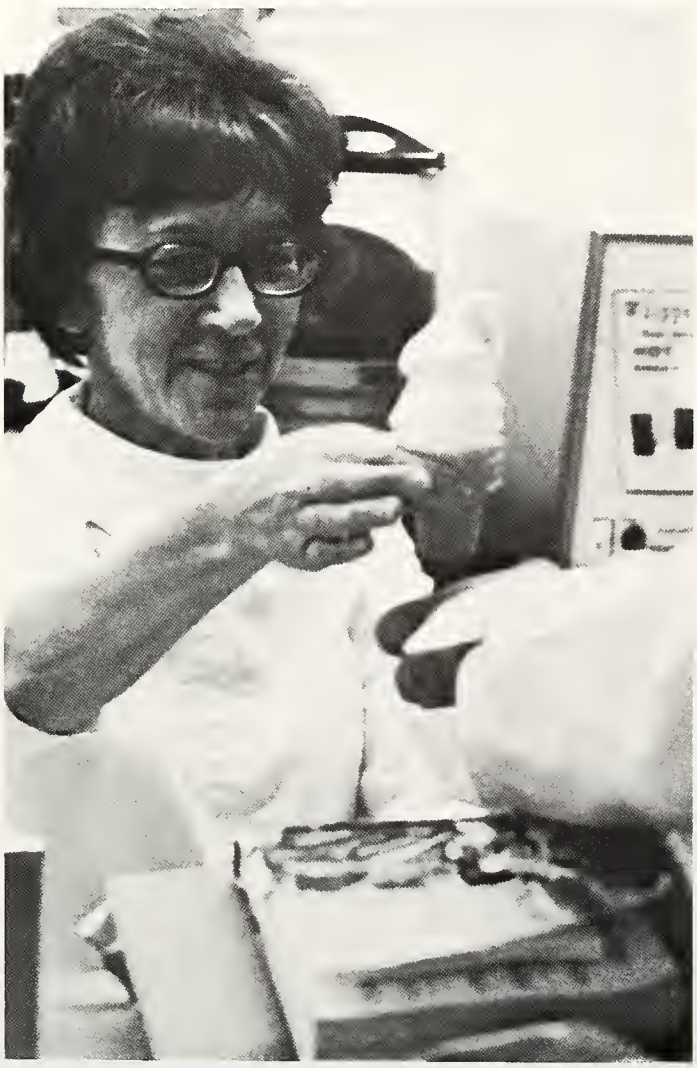
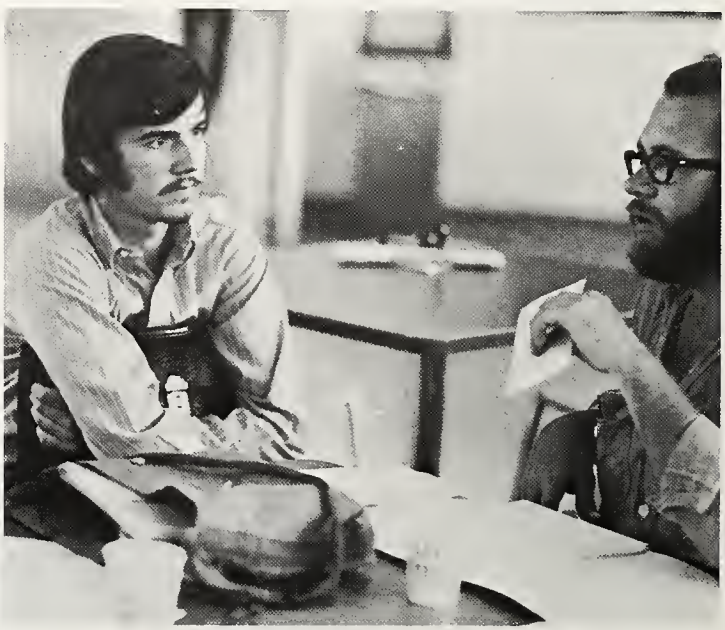
We rub shoulders and move on.

UR: S. Gerig
LL: J. Lambright
LR: B. Charles, D. Leu







L: R. Whatley; T. Hershberger
C: Kulp Homecoming Display; B. Burkhalter
B: M. Heindel

A day is a chain of giving and receiving of which we are the links.
We find life
seeping out of tiny crevices
where nobody thinks to look.
It is a Sunday afternoon

chat over a jelly bean bag, a letter to Mom,
two people under one umbrella,
crumpled thesis papers reclaimed from waste baskets,
eyes meeting eyes,
a thank you note, and sharing Twinkies in the snackshop.

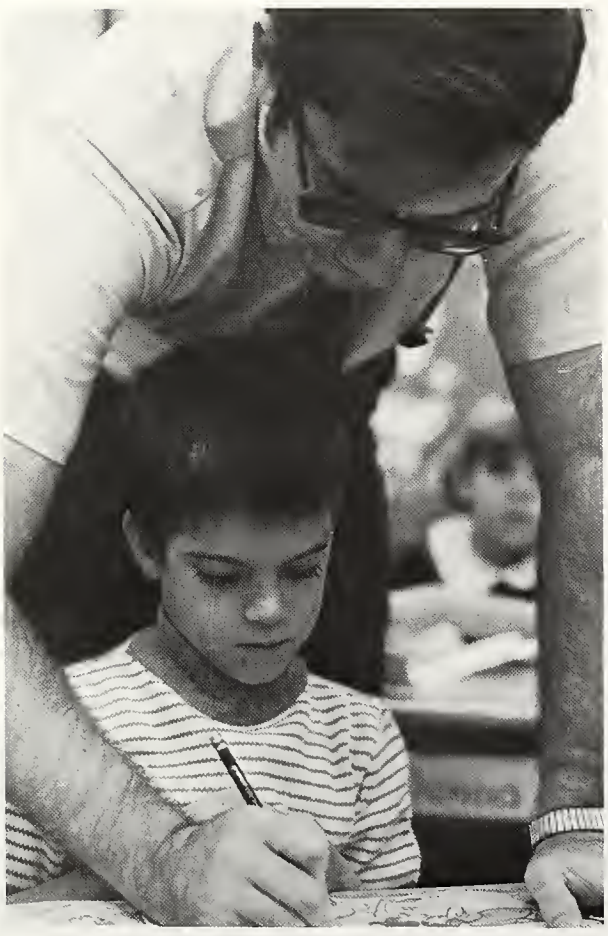
Our outreach takes varied forms: M. A. Halteman (A) befriends young learners; P. Leichty (B) experiences student teaching; L. Heatwole (R) readies equipment for another WGCS broadcast.



A: Informal group singing brightens lonely Sundays for Goshen hospital patients.
R: Aux Chandelles children

We share our joy and it comes boomeranging back.
Tutoring climaxes a week with the sparkle of a child's eager eyes and an apple.
Friday evening whirls away in a hodge podge of misplaced finger paint and energetic hugs
at Aux Chandelles.
The Lighthouse community welcomes us
with outstretched arms.

We give ourselves away, daring to love
and be loved,
committing ourselves
to Christ and to each other.

UR: M. Gingerich tests child care skills during SST, Costa Rica.
LL: B. Mierau (C front) and P. Bauman (CR) return from mountaintop communion on the Campus Church trip to EMC.

A: J. Miller programs the computer in GC's new Turner Precision X-Ray Measurements Lab.

L: Coach F. Litwiller's basketball team, winners of their second consecutive Mennonite Classic, rely heavily on seniors R. Springer M. Gaff, M. Miller, C. Steiner, and B. Zuercher. C. Berkey, M. Birky, J. Gaff, D. Jantzi, E. Krabill, G. Miller, and M. Sommer complete the squad.

With Thoreau we find the answer to our struggle for life.
"Not till we are lost, in other words, not till we have lost the world," he writes,
"do we begin to find ourselves, and realize where we are and the infinite extent of our relations."

The world is starved for the life we have discovered. We dare not keep it to ourselves. We are born, like Christ, to die, and in our death to bring the joy of life to others.
Our life is a paradox—death in reverse!
